Qualifying for UC Transfer Admission

- Two UC-transferable college courses (3 semester or 4-5 quarter units each) in English composition; and
- One UC-transferable college course (3 semester or 4-5 quarter units) in mathematical concepts and quantitative reasoning; and
- Four UC-transferable college courses (3 semester or 4-5 quarter units each) chosen from at least two of the following subject areas: arts and humanities, social and behavioral sciences, and physical and biological sciences.

California Residents

To qualify for admission to UC as a junior-level transfer student, you must fulfill both of the following criteria. Keep in mind that meeting these minimum requirements is not sufficient to gain admission to the campus or to the major of your choice.

1. Complete at least 60 semester units or 90 quarter units of UC-transferable college credit with a minimum grade-point average (GPA) of 2.40. No more than 14 semester/21 quarter units may be taken on a pass/not pass basis.
2. Complete the following course pattern requirements, earning a grade of C (2.00) or better in each course:

Admission and Selection

The admission and selection process for transfers to UC Santa Cruz reflects the academic rigor and preparation needed for admission to a major research institution. Meeting the minimum qualifications for the university does not guarantee you admission as a transfer student. Students are encouraged to achieve well beyond the minimum qualifications to enhance their chances for selection, especially by completing as many of the lower-division courses required by their intended major as possible.

Transfer applicants are thoroughly reviewed to determine their full spectrum of academic and personal achievements, including transfer course work completed for their major. UCSC uses faculty-approved criteria to determine which transfer students will be selected for admission. UC Santa Cruz gives the highest priority to junior-level transfer students coming from California community colleges.

Selection Criteria

UC-qualified transfer students will be selected primarily on the basis of academic performance and preparation, as assessed by a comprehensive review of the following: GPA in all UC-transferable courses; completion of and performance in lower-division prerequisite courses in your proposed major; completion of a specified pattern of courses that meet general education requirements; participation in academically selective honors programs and performance in honors courses.

Other factors that may be assessed include outstanding performance in one or more academic subject areas, special projects, or programs; talents, achievements, experiences, or interests that will contribute to the vitality and educational environment of the campus; and special circumstances or personal challenges, especially as they relate to the social or educational environment(s), that have affected your life experience.

Class Standing

Please note that, due to the high volume of applications that UC Santa Cruz receives, the campus is open to junior-level transfer students only. Lower-division transfer students (sophomores) are not considered for admission to UCSC.

UC Santa Cruz does not accept students who have completed 90 UC-transferable semester units (135 quarter units) or more from a combination of two-year and four-year institutions (senior standing). If you have earned all of your credits from community college, you are not affected by this limit, because UC grants a maximum of 70 semester (105 quarter) units in transfer from any two-year college.

Second Baccalaureate Applicants

Second baccalaureate candidates are evaluated on a case-by-case basis when enrollment allows. For more information, please see admissions.ucsc.edu/apply/transfer-students/index.html.

Applicants with International Academic Records

UCSC welcomes transfer students who have completed course work outside the United States. A record of course work from collegiate institutions and universities outside of the U.S. must be submitted for evaluation. If your native language is not English and your education in high school or at the college or university level was in a country where English is not the native language, UC Santa Cruz requires one of the following:

- A minimum score of 220 (computer-based) or 550 (paper-based) on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL)
- A minimum score of 7 on the International English Language Testing System (IELTS) academic module
- Completion of two UC-transferable English composition courses (not ESL) in the U.S. with grades of B (3.00) or better

Preparing to Transfer

Preparing for Your Major

It is expected that junior-level transfer students will complete as many of the lower-division courses as possible for their chosen major prior to transferring to UCSC. This is particularly important if your major requires preparatory courses in mathematics and the sciences. Strong preparation will ease your transition to the university, shorten your time to degree, and leave more flexibility in your schedule to explore additional academic interests. Information regarding the required courses for each major can be found in the UC Santa Cruz General Catalog at reg.ucsc.edu/catalog and www2.assist.org/exploring-majors/findMajorListByInstitutionAbbrev.do?abbrev=UCSC.

Most transfer students are admitted to the campus as proposed majors (as listed on the UC application). We strongly advise junior-level transfer students to research the requirements for their intended major in the UC Santa Cruz General Catalog or on the UCSC academic department's web site. Many majors require specific course work and/or GPA levels for acceptance. Junior transfers are required to declare their major no later than their second quarter of attendance.

Art Majors Junior transfer students are accepted into the art major for fall quarter after passing a portfolio review in April. The UC application and the Art Department portfolio review application are separate and independent processes. Being accepted to UC Santa Cruz does not guarantee that you will pass the portfolio review, and passing the portfolio review does not guarantee admission to UC Santa Cruz. More information on the portfolio review can be found at art.ucsc.edu or by calling the Art Department at (831) 459-3551.

Jack Baskin School of Engineering Acceptance into any Jack Baskin School of Engineering (BSOE) major will be based on completion of and grades earned in the individual department's foundation courses, in addition to the overall college academic record. The foundation courses required for admission to BSOE majors are described at ugrad.soe.ucsc.edu/admissions. For more information, e-mail soeadmissions@soe.ucsc.edu or call (831) 459-5840. Please note: IGETC is not recommended for engineering transfer students.

All Other Majors During the declaration of major process, which occurs once you are already enrolled at UC Santa Cruz, other departments may screen for admission to their majors using criteria well beyond minimum admission requirements. For further information, please consult advising.ucsc.edu/roadmap/premajors, the UC Santa Cruz General Catalog, and the appropriate UCSC academic department web site.
